

CT Consultants' Mentoring Program

A mentor provides you with wisdom, technical knowledge, assistance, support, empathy and respect throughout, and often beyond, your graduate career. Mentoring helps students understand how their ambitions fit into graduate education, department life and career choices.

CT Consultants' mentoring program pairs mid- to senior-level staff throughout our regional offices with an undergraduate student interested in or currently studying architecture or civil engineering.

Mentors help students further explore their field of interest and become career-ready through regular communication, in-person meetings, office visits, and networking opportunities, as well as guidance on college essays, resumes, and interview techniques. Our mentoring program is set up by the academic year, but we encourage all students to stay in touch with their mentors regularly about their higher education journey, specifically any challenges they may be encountering.

CT is committed to providing practical and impactful mentoring – and inspiring future generations of architects and engineers!
