Title: Community Services Intern (Hacia la Salud)

Want to make a difference in saving and healing lives and reducing health disparities in multicultural communities in Northeast Ohio? Lifebanc, a nonprofit organization dedicated to saving and healing lives through organ, eye, and tissue donation for transplantation, is seeking a candidate for our paid internship opportunity as a Community Health Advocate for the Hacia la Salud Pilot Program. As a Community Health Advocate, you will gain valuable experience in the areas of community outreach, developing educational materials, event coordination, and community relations within population-specific communities in the Greater Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown areas.

Description:

- Assist in the organization and implementation of outreach and awareness programming within population-specific communities in Lifebanc's service area.
- Assist in the facilitation and development of multicultural and bilingual programming to explore and provide critical reflection of issues surrounding organ, eye and tissue donation.
- Assist in developing relationships with key community leaders, businesses, and organizations to support Lifebanc's mission.
- Assist with planning and development of Lifebanc annual events.
- Assist with administrative tasks and other duties as assigned.

Qualifications:

- Candidate must be enrolled in college or university actively pursuing an undergraduate or graduate degree in public health, public administration, urban studies, communications, healthcare administration, or relevant field. If pursuing an undergraduate degree, candidate must be at least a college junior
- GPA of 3.0 or higher
- Oral and written fluency in the Spanish language required
- Available up to 25 hours per week with some evenings or weekends
- Familiarity with community-facing organizations and public education programs a plus
- Experience with Microsoft applications
- A self-starter with the ability to be productive with minimal supervision
- Strong verbal and written communication skills with attention to detail and ability to multi-task.
- Access to reliable transportation and willingness to travel within Lifebanc's service area.

Benefits:

- Up to $4600 total stipend paid over six months
- Opportunity for college credit (dependent on school requirements)
- Relevant experience in the non-profit, public health, and public relations fields

About Lifebank: Since 1986, Lifebank has been serving as Northeast Ohio's only nonprofit organ and tissue recovery organization and began as one of the original seven independent organ procurement organizations in the United States. Lifebank saves and heals lives and pursues a future where organ, eye and tissue donation is embraced as an honor and a personal responsibility.
