Northern Ohio Organizer Northern Ohioans for Budget Legislation Equality (NOBLE)

NOBLE is seeking a community organizer who will be responsible for educating, recruiting, and mobilizing individuals, organizations and agencies in Northern Ohio, with an office based in Cleveland. This work will focus on the current state budget, with a priority collecting stories and data on the impacts being felt by community members and organizations due to this current budget. A particular focus is to involve and empower community members in budget decisions which impact their lives. This organizer must be able to:

1. Involve new groups, agencies, and individuals. Identify stakeholders in suburban, city, rural, and faith based organizations.
2. Educate community members, groups, and agencies on the impact of the current state budget on vulnerable Ohioans.
3. Collect personal stories from community members impacted by the current state budget, and data from organizations on how the current state budget is impacting their work.
4. Work with diverse ethnic, racial, and economic populations.
5. Train and empower community leaders throughout northern Ohio.
6. Mobilize individuals, organizations, and agencies to advocate for increased funding for health, human services and other basic needs.
7. Organize meetings with legislators, committee testimony, town hall meetings, media events, site visits, and other public efforts.
8. Network and build partnerships with existing organizations that have specific budget agendas.

The persons should preferably have community organizing experience, a college degree, be a self-starter, and be able to grasp and communicate policy issues to community members. The person must also have a valid driver's license and insurance. This job requires a flexible schedule.. The position is full time with a $30,000 salary and benefits.
