

UNICEF is recruiting students for a paid engagement internship! Interns will improve the City by analyzing data, studying government policies, gathering information from City residents, summarizing research, and interviewing key City stakeholders. Interns will be part of some of the most important decision-making in our city, and every child will benefit from students' perspectives and expertise. Kindly share with all interested students.

Ideal candidates will be highly reliable, independent, and professional. Interns must have a strong interest in key city issue areas, such as education, the economy, housing, health, etc.

Interns will work 10 - 12 hours a week with weekly stipends. Interested applicants will be able to apply starting September. Students will be reviewed on a rolling basis with application details. Kindly attach your Resume/CV. Application information will be available at the email below.

unicefjobs@internhr.com

The internship is completely virtual and open to both undergraduate and graduate students.

Applications will be reviewed, and students will be contacted with application details on a rolling basis. We encourage you to apply as soon as possible.